Human rights media are rapidly transforming within a contemporary media environment increasingly defined by digital convergence. This symposium brings together internationally recognized experts in the field of human rights media to discuss the ongoing innovations and future implications of this increasing turn to new media by human rights activism.

With Mallika Dutt, President and CEO of the international human rights organization Breakthrough; Sam Gregory, Program Director at WITNESS; and Fred Ritchin, Professor of Photography and Imaging, Tisch School of the Arts, New York University.

Major funding provided by the Mellon Central New York Humanities Corridor, an Andrew W. Mellon initiative, Imagining America, and The SU Humanities Center.
